

Applause!

We would like to award

MD Reza

in recognition of valuable contributions

MD is one of the key programmers involved in a critical China email initiative for our team. He has proactively put considerable effort into learning a new platform and taking on tasks that are outside of his normal scope of responsibility. His work with the research team, his colleagues, and other departments to troubleshoot and keep this initiative going are recognized and much appreciated, as success with this initiative could lead to happier clients, more efficiency on the project, and new / expanded business potential.

Curiosity: MD spent time reading the manuals, watching training videos, and experimenting with the platform

Collaboration: MD has worked closely with research team, programming, and other IT staff to share findings and make adjustments as needed

Client First: Our clients highly value a solid solution for stable email delivery to China and a successful service could help us provide this
